TRAIN WAS ON LATE SCHEDULE Texas & Pacific Trainmen

Testify Regarding Death

of McGonagill. John Lang and W. H. Dear, conductor and flagman respectively of the train in which W. F. McGonagill was killed at Toyah Monday morning, appeared before justice Watson this afternoon to give their testimony.

Lang testified that they were eight hours behind time and, owing to the fact that there was a heavy fog, they were flagging between Torah and Arigne and ne had stopped the train and sent the flagman ahead. However, the flagman said that he was on the front end of the train and saw the other train approaching at a fast rate of speed. When his engineer put on air brakes he jumped and then the crash came. The engineer of the other train was found lying on the ground with a broken leg. McGonagill was found in the car back of the emigrant car in which he had been riding, his right forehead smashed in and death evidently having been inof the engigeant car and the only living dog, all the horses having been killed. The emigrant car had been telescoped

Rev. Caspar S. Wright Talks of the Work of the Mission Movement.

Dr. Caspar S. Wright, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, was the speaker at the luncheon of the Laymen's Mis-sionary movement today. The tables were crowded and Dr. Wright had the earnest attention of every diner for the 15 minutes that he spoke. Dr. Wright said in part:

"I want to speak of this movement from three points of view: First, what is it? It is three years old and belongs to the United States, Canada, England, Scotland, Germany, Australia and Africa. It has permeated every evangelical church in the Protestant world. It is the greatest movement since the great spos-ties to the Gentiles crossed from Asia to Europe to send the gospel to that continent and down the ages into this, and back again into Asia, Africa and South America and the islands of the sea. It is the plan of God Almighty by which the gospel shall be preached to the fartherest man of earth's remotest tribe. "It is generat or interdenominational, and it is denominational-a movement rather than an organization, an inspiration rather than an administration.

"The denominational movement is orgailized strictly within the churches and is not in anything separate from the church. It handles no moneys except through the regular channels of the church.

The Object.
Its object is the evangelization of the world. As a method it seeks to enlist men in the one great mission of the church asking them to give their time, money, thought and prayers, work and lives to sending the gospel to all for whom Christ died. Underlying this we believe that if you can be impressed with your obligation on this line and the magnitude of the task and the suffleiency of your resources to meet this task that you will rise in your strength and in the strength of your Master and finish the unfinished task in this generation.

The results already obtained have justified belief in the movement, Manifestly the first means to be used was a campaign of education. The first command of the Lord to his followers was 'to look upon the fields already white unto harvest.' One reason why so many men have manifested so little interest in church work is because they have had nothing to do. This uprising of men for world conquest gives them some-

"As one result already obtained, I cite you the fact that 41,325,000 people are today in direct reach of the gospel who were not in touch of it one year ago. goal of history is the redemption of the world This movement is the one method by which that goal can be obtained. How To Do It.

'How is it to be accomplished. We have come to the point where you laymen will have to take hold of the thing and work it out. I have got to the point where I want to see the laymen take hold of every interest of the church. We want praying men, men who are in constant communion with God, men who get their ideal not from the counting rooms of banks or merchants, nor from legislative halls or political systems, but we want men who take their ideal from fellowship with the Son of God. These Dr. Bush has removed his office to are the men who can do the world's work We can't afford to let this thing fall into the hands of semisecular men who would do the work now and then.

"The laiety of the church must have the pirit of Christ in them, and that every day and hour, praying for it, working for it. living for it, dying for it. We want the church to get in this condition, then you will have power to reach all nations and we will lift the nations up and give the world the spectacle of nations conquered without the blare of trumpets, explosion of gunpowder, show of battle or any of the horrors of war. We will give the world the spectacle of nations conquered by the power of the

The Church Interest. "The one great interest of the church encompasses everything—all interests of life. I do not believe in any business in which God is not a partner. Christ does not endorse any system of legisla-tion today in which he does not occupy the speaker's chair. Christ does not endorse any system of government in which he is not recognized as Lord of all. Everything in this movement must have the endorsement of Jesus Christ, and with Jesus Christ as leader it is not improbable, but altogether possible, that his gospel shall be prenched to all nations upon the earth before the passing

Great Thing for Christians. "This convention means things for the Christian men of El Paso. God is moving upon the minds and hearts of the men of this city. We need a little evangelizing ourselves. This movement means the opening of the gateway for transformation of our city, but the church must swing into line. With the unity of this movement it will not be long until a thousand deplorable vices and wrongs now tolerated in this country will be swept away, and with the supremary of the gospel will come a greater, a cleaner and a more wholesome government. There is a unity about this thing that has never been seen in any other movement, and in its final results It means a great deal more to us than the simple preaching of the gospel to all nations of the world."

of this generation.

At the close of Dr. Wright's address the various committees held sessions to consider the progress of the work. Reports showing much progress was made. and there is a lively enthusiasm among the men comprising the various committees, pointing to a highly successful meeting and one that will have a great strengthening effect upon the churches of the city. Lists of speakers will likely be announced next week, and it will contain the names of some of the most prominent laymen and ministers in the United States, among them such men as Samuel B. Capens, the great carpet merchant of Philadelphia, who will also speak at similar conventions at Houston and Fort Worth. Luncheous will continue to be held
